

Press Release

BioNimbus Inc. and Proquis Announce a Reseller Partnership Deal

BioNimbus, Inc. of the US recently concluded a distribution agreement with Proquis, a compliance software development company based in the UK and USA. BioNimbus assists its clients, pharmaceutical and biotech companies, in achieving their objectives with regard to product development, including the GXP quality and compliance aspects. Proquis develops, supplies and installs regulatory compliance management software for highly regulated industries such as pharmaceutical, healthcare and aerospace. Conclusion of this agreement gives BioNimbus the right to resell Proquis products in the worldwide market; which includes their enterprise solution PROQUIS and the process management tool allCLEAR.

Said Dr. Brian Brandley, BioNimbus' Chief Scientific Officer, "the two software platforms PROQUIS Enterprise and allCLEAR allow us to meet the document management needs of both emerging companies and larger pharmaceutical/biotech units because the concept behind it allows the software to grow with them. This stands in sharp contrast with existing document management applications that are complex and expensive and only feasible for larger pharmaceutical operations. In the current pharmaceutical/biotech environment where outsourcing and being 'virtual' have become common practice, such software platforms are becoming invaluable as they save both time and resources."

Bill Best, Sales and Marketing Director for Proquis said, "We chose BioNimbus Inc. for their expertise and extensive experience in the pharma/ biotech sectors. Their practical knowledge of regulatory compliance and the ability to service this industry will substantially extend real added value Proquis providing to our clients. This partnership will help support our strategic goal to consolidate our expansion in this market. PROQUIS Enterprise can expedite the product development process and reduce the time to market for the pharma/ biotech industry by improving their critical business processes such as document management, audit and non- conformance management."

About BioNimbus Inc

BioNimbus provides consulting services to the pharmaceutical/biotech and medical devices industry, ranging from business development and operational advise to product development and regulatory/quality management assistance.

Contact information: bbrandley@BioNimbus.com

About Proquis

Proquis is a global compliance management software solutions provider to highly regulated industries such as Pharmaceutical, Healthcare, Aerospace, Manufacturing and Automotive. The PROQUIS Enterprise System offers a user friendly, highly comprehensive and easy to validate solution for regulatory conformance. The company has headquarters in the UK and US for sales and support of their compliance management soft wares – PROQUIS and allCLEAR.

Contact Information

Proquis Public Relations – publicrelations@proquis.com

For more information, please visit:

BioNimbus Inc. - www.bionimbus.com

Proquis - www.proquis.com